

the good old orthodox religion of our forefathers is instilled in the growing minds of the young.

While the natives are shy and reticent in their intercourse with strangers, they do not object to men of moral character buying land and settling upon the island.

PRICE OF LAND

The price varies. For low grazing land $25 to $30 is charged ; for good building sites, $125 per acre is the price.

AUNT HARRIET DOUGHTY

Among the more prominent characters of the island was Mrs. Harriet Doughty, who died in the year 1896. She was the mother of Captain Doughty, the lighthouse keeper. Mrs. Doughty (or Aunt Harriet, as she was affectionately called) was a woman nobly planned, with all the virtues that ennoble womanhood ; sweet tempered, kind and hospitable, she was the oracle of the island, and her memory is treasured along with the traditions of the place ; and when she was laid to her final rest, mother earth never took unto her embrace a more devoted wife, or a kinder or more careful mother.

THE WAY TO GET TO THE ISLAND

Hog Island is easy of access. Cape Charles station, on the P. & N. R. R., is the nearest point, being about fifteen miles distant. The U. S. mail steamers transport passengers across the broadwater to that point.
